Customized Consultation Opportunities!

“We can help you!”

Technical Assistance is an important component for learning and putting into practice new information. Over the years Networks has provided thousands of hours of assistance and support to individuals, providers, community organizations, schools, and neighborhoods in a variety of areas. As a way to reach out to you, Networks is offering opportunities to provide technical assistance to your organization where “we come to you”! Whether it is a full course at your location or consultation with small groups, Networks is available to provide customized opportunities on-site.

The following lists the three (3) topical Strands that are being offered this year, along with the contact person for each area:
